NEW STAFFERS, NEW FAMILY: Donny and Barbara on little Donny Jr.'s first birthday.

Report From The Land

Alliance member Donny McMullen and his lady Barbara visited the Tennessee Alliance headquarters in February with their infant son. After that visit they committed to eventually relocating to Tennessee to work on staff here. After a couple of months of assessing the Alliance's situation, Chairman Williams asked them if they would instead move to our West Virginia campus, since we had an immediate opening there. Jay Hess had given notice that after spending two winters in West Virginia that he wished to move to a warmer climate this year where another opportunity exists for him. They quickly agreed and moved in on the first of September. They currently reside in the 125-year-old farmhouse that Chairman Williams lived in for two years back in 1992 and 1993. Mr. McMullen wrote to us about his work:

Chairman Williams: I want to say thank you for this opportunity to work full time for the Alliance. This area of West Virginia is amazing... We absolutely love it here. The privacy, the wildlife, and everyday views are gorgeous. We are truly enjoying every minute in these woods and mountains. There's much work to do but we definitely feel more than up to the tasks. We'll get things straightened out up here by any means necessary. I will talk more with Fred Streed to bounce a few ideas around with him about some of the challenges he is familiar with, having worked here on staff, constructing buildings and keeping the place running for 11 years. He is an intelligent man and has been so helpful. Moving to the West Virginia land from Massachusetts has been a huge change for all of us. But it was a sacrifice we made with no hesitation. We came from a pretty rural area, but out here is like nothing we're accustomed to, not to mention the friendly White folks that live around us. It sure is great to be around people of our kind... In October we've cleaned the long-neglected gutters on the main building and did landscaping and tree work around the buildings. The inside of the building was a little rough, so we've also been working on that. There was lots of trash and junk to get rid of, so we made a few dump runs with the trailer you brought up to us from Tennessee. Looks better already! We pulled the defective well pump for the gate house and the main building... Earlier this month during our short visit to Tennessee with you and Lana, you showed us the Alliance's beautiful new land there and caught us up on what's been going on down there. It is truly amazing the grit and determination you have, Will. We are lucky to have such a great Chairman. Lana is a great hostess. We celebrated Donny Jr's first birthday together and had some delicious dinners. It's great to spend time with friends and discuss future projects for the Alliance. We are back in West Virginia now on this thickly wooded mountainside where Dr. Pierce lived and worked to build our Alliance. We are preparing for winter now, so there is lots of wood to be cut. It's rugged work like this that our people thrive on. We are trying our best to do our part and keep our founder's vision alive.

Chairman Williams responds: It is Lana and I who are the lucky ones to have a team like you and Barbara helping hold things together for the Alliance in West Virginia. It's a big, important job! We hope another dedicated member or couple will also volunteer to relocate there soon to help you out with all the work. We have a nice empty house waiting for the right idealistic, motivated and sober person or couple. Any member who is interested in relocating to either Alliance community — West Virginia or Tennessee — to work on staff for the cause, contact me at chairmanwilliams@natall.com or our postal address.

Ron Ramsey, former Republican Lieutenant Governor of Tennessee, who lives nearby, is the auctioneer and has teamed up with the local trio of outstanding businessmen to offer these beautiful Laurelwood Estates lots. For GPS purposes use '900 Laurelwood Lane, Mountain City, TN.' More details can be found at ronramsey-auctions.com or call (423) 323-8700.

Building a National Alliance/Cosmotheist community requires that our people live in or in close proximity to that community. Laurelwood Estates is the finest residential development near our Laurel Bloomery headquarters and should attract those serious members and supporters with the means to purchase a lot and build a home.

Our members in the Quad Cities continue to garner news coverage; this controlled media hit piece is one result:

CAIR condemns white supremacist flyers in Quad-Cities: The Council on American-Islamic Relations has condemned the white-supremacist flyers distributed recently in the Quad-Cities. CAIR is a Muslim civil rights and advocacy group, based out of Washington, D.C. “The growing white supremacist threat must be addressed by our nation's religious and political leaders,” CAIR National Communications Director Ibrahim Hooper said in a statement issued Saturday. “Unfortunately, white supremacy and other forms of bigotry are being emboldened by the policies and rhetoric emanating from the highest levels of our society.”

The flyers, distributed by white supremacist group National Alliance, were found on cars in Bettendorf and Davenport. “Really, there's hardly a weekend or a month that goes by that we don't hear of National Alliance flyers on cars or in parks or in front yards in a neighborhood,” said Allan Ross, the executive director of the Jewish Federation of the Quad-Cities. “I think we're all kind of hoping that it won't go any further than that. But it is a worry.” Local police and the FBI told the Times there's not much law enforcement can do because the hate flyers are protected by the First Amendment...

It's very good for us to be positioned in the public mind as the opponents of both types of Middle Eastern invaders. You can follow National Alliance activism in the news at our White Biocentrism forum: <https://whitebiocentrism.com/viewtopic.php?f=28&t=4180&start=10>

Legal Updates

The state's response to Chairman Williams' brief to the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals (WVSCA) that was mentioned in the August BULLETIN was received on 25 October. It was prepared by a Ms. Holly Flanigan, an assistant attorney general, who had been substituted for Shannon Kiser who originally had a deadline of 10 October to respond to us. Ms. Flanigan requested an additional 14 days to prepare her response, explaining that Kiser's employment ended on 4 October and she had received the file on 7 October. During the three or four times Chairman Williams had talked with Mr. Kiser over the summer about the preparation of his brief, Mr. Kiser was very cordial and helpful, saying he would be considerate of the fact that Williams was filing his brief pro se. That all changed when Ms. Flanigan took over. Her response is imperious, hostile and poorly drawn. Williams had just 18 days to respond in turn, but as this BULLETIN goes to press, tracking of the twelve 20-plus page packets that were sent to each of the Supreme Court Justices, their clerks, the WVSCA clerk, and to Ms. Flanigan, shows they were received on 8 November, three days ahead of the deadline. This complicated process of appealing a wrongful conviction to the West Virginia Supreme Court would have been difficult enough, and prohibitively expensive, had an appellant attorney taken the case, but Williams, appealing pro se, with the invaluable assistance and exhausting hard work of his wife Lana, made a strong case, showing judicial and prosecutorial misconduct on the part of the judge and special prosecutor, as well as showing ineffective counsel on the part of his defense attorney.

A National Alliance business card: what Muslim and Jewish groups condemned as a “threat” this month.

An appellant attorney most likely could not expose this corruption and make these serious charges and keep his career, much less state that if the wrongful conviction is not vacated or reversed that he has a voice and will try the case before the court of public opinion, as Williams has done.

In the Alliance's $850,000 counterclaim against the brothers of John McLaughlin (co-executors of his estate), transcripts of two hearings were purchased as evidence for the judge in Piatt County, Illinois, to reconsider and revise his illogical adverse ruling, trying to time-bar our counterclaim. Brother Michael McLaughlin lied under oath on the record and his testimony in these trial transcripts contradicts his testimony when he was deposed by us. A hearing will be scheduled before the end of 2019, at which time the trial for our counterclaim will be scheduled and move forward in the Hanover, Virginia, court, where John McLaughlin v. National Alliance was foolishly filed back in 2016.

Correspondence

Chairman Williams, I was slow to read your commentary in the August BULLETIN due a combination of to early onset of cataracts and difficulty reading very small print. The brief you submitted to the West Virginia Supreme Court sounds so positive. I hope it's productive and wish you the best with it! If not in the position of high responsibility as you are, I think most of us would have done the time rather than fight to the distance you have. Your position as National Alliance Chairman compels you to fight!

After reading "Recruiting Christians" in the September BULLETIN I dug up the September 1945 Book of Common Prayer (the one I was taught from as a child). Nowhere in the 22 pages about the communion service and the exhortations of the Episcopal church was there any mention of Jews or a call for a Jewish state. The current Prayer Book has three different services and if I recall correctly all three glorify the Jewish state! This creeping change to Jew worship in the church I was baptized in, along with Juneteenth [celebration of the end of slavery on June 19, 1865] caused me to finally walk away from the church. I've been told people like me should join a "cowboy church," but I haven't found one of them.... — O.C., Louisiana

Chairman Williams responds: You were right to quit your church as Dr. Pierce advised us to do when a member's church has an agenda that is in conflict with that of the National Alliance. I'd never heard of cowboy churches, but a quick search of the Internet describes them as "local Christian churches within the cowboy culture that promote traditional Western heritage in an attempt to re-frame the setting of their theology." In other words they don't want to let go of their "King of the Jews" — Jesus — but don't celebrate things like the end of slavery nor glorify Jews and Israel. Good for them. They are more likely to come to reality-based, common sense Cosmotheism, along with the 26% of Americans who reportedly do not consider themselves Christian, than are those stodgy Episcopalians who take up with every anti-White cause these days. Of the supposed 74% of Americans who still consider themselves Christian, many of them have a nominal belief due to family tradition and peer pressure, but don't worship Jews or seriously consider themselves "born again," nor do they embrace the mythical messiah as their "personal savior and lord."

Dear Will, Greetings kinsman! This is just a short note to thank you and let you know that the September issue of the BULLETIN arrived safe and sound. No problem with the ZOG to JOG. One thing you did have wrong, though, is my age. I am 72, not 71. I just learned about Don Black's son. We are in a world of trouble if the culture destroyers in our educational system can brainwash someone with his background and family. It is no wonder that the younger generation is so anti-White. Again, thanks for your support. Give my regards to all. Take care and stay safe. 14 Words! — Richard Scutari, California "correctional" facility

Chairman Williams responds: It's good that the BULLETIN was received by Richard. Some past issues we mailed to him had been illegally confiscated, without proper notification. One we sent to another valued prisoner last month was returned with "no stickers allowed" stamped on the envelope. We'll re-send it without the sticker. I had told Richard that I changed "ZOG" to "JOG" in his letter last month. That's an editorial policy, like capitalizing words like White or Jew to standardize our language. ZOG (Zionist Occupation Government) was a popular acronym among patriots during the 1980s to describe our corrupted government. Frankly, we do not know in many cases whether the Jews who have turned our government against the White majority and who have judaized society, mostly through their control of mass media, are Zionists, or Communists, or capitalists, or Episcopalians, Democrats, Republicans, or whatever else they pretend to be. What we do know is that they are Jews. Thus, call them what they are. When I first corresponded with Richard way back in 1992 and got our New York Metro Local Unit to sponsor his Alliance membership, Richard jokingly told me that I should respect my elders — he was born 30 April, 1947, one week before I was. But for the sake of accuracy I checked his profile on the usually accurate Metapedia site which says he was born a year later in 1948. I should have relied on my memory.

Richard doesn't get much news of what's going on outside of his controlled facility. He was unaware of the sad story three years ago of longtime stalwart activist Don Black's son flipping, very publicly, to the dark side after being raised right from birth by Don. David Duke is the boy's godfather. Anyone interested in how a weak-willed, but otherwise bright young man, raised right, even home-schooled, can be corrupted by a girl and by culture destroyers at his university can do an Internet search on 'Don Black's son.' There is even a Jew-authored book about this young man's fall.

Chairman Williams, I can see why Dr. Pierce moved the Alliance headquarters from "the swamp" of northern Virginia to West Virginia in 1985. West Virginia might be the boondocks but it is clean, relatively safe, and offered peace of mind for him to do his work for our people. Will, I understand why you are in Tennessee now and can understand if you sell what is left of the West Virginia Alliance property to consolidate and make things more manageable. The new property sounds ideal and looks fabulous. Enjoy it!

I enjoy the correspondence section of our BULLETIN. M.F.'s letter (the Special Forces soldier) in the last issue was excellent. I've been studying the declining racial situation in the military for years and don't see that there is anything we can do to reverse it at this point. But it is good to know we still have some racially responsible men like him in uniform. Rudy Stanko is hard core! And Richard Scutari is a true hero of the White race!... Keep up the great work! — R.S., West Virginia

Chairman Williams responds: R.S., there are a couple of men of means on our side who see that there will be a need for a place like The Land in West Virginia as society breaks down further. They have expressed interest in purchasing it. If I can keep the place "in the family" like that, so to speak, and generate funding for properly developing our National Alliance headquarters and the William Pierce Memorial Library in Tennessee, everybody wins. Dr. Pierce always said, "whatever is best for the National Alliance." That is the way I look at it; with our two properties being 200 miles apart they are too far-flung to manage effectively — and we are "land rich and cash poor."

Since you mention Mr. Scutari I'd like to add that he has been a bona fide political prisoner, dare I say a prisoner of war, for 30 years. One sentence that is accurate in Richard's Metapedia profile is this:

Since his 1989 imprisonment, Scutari has remained active. He has been given many opportunities to 'tell all,' and be released; he has chosen to remain silent.

Think of that. I just read the fascinating autobiography of West Point Green Beret lieutenant Nick Rowe, Five Years to Freedom. He was a POW of the Viet Cong for 62 months and survived through incredibly harsh conditions, caged in irons until finally escaping after two earlier failed attempts. Like Richard, Nick was offered release and freedom numerous times by his brutal Communist captors if he would simply "tell all" of the lies he was told to say for propaganda purposes. All he had to do was go along to get along, betray what he knew to be true to be released. His strength of character and personal code of "death before dishonor" to the very end reminded me of Richard Scutari, whose own biography is titled Unbroken Warrior. Speaking of hard core Rudy Stanko, another man of his race who values truth above fashion, note that Cosmotheist Books has added his 1986 book, The Score, this month. Rudy dedicated the book to Jesus Christ, "the first to tell the score about the conspiracy of the Sanhedrin and its followers." That was before he had read Klassen's Nature's Eternal Religion and Hitler's Mein Kampf while in prison and became a non-Christian National Socialist.

Dear Chairman Williams, It was a few months ago when a friend introduced me the Alliance's nationalvanguard.org site. Upon first reading what's there I was unsure how to take the information. It was unlike anything I had read that is spewed from the Internet. I dismissed it for a couple of days but found myself drawn back by the appeal of ideas I'd never been exposed to before.

Suddenly I became excited by relating what I read to my life and the world around me, and to discover that there is an organization delivering solid truths, something to hold fast to other than hazy Christian ideas; something that speaks to my soul unlike anything before!

I am proud to have been accepted as a member of the National Alliance and am ready to do all I can for the preservation and upward evolution of our great race. Sincerely, — M.G., California

Gun Show Activism

Our member in Louisiana, A.R., rented another table for the National Alliance again this month at a gun show. This is the second such show where he's sold books from our Cosmotheist book store. He reports that: "The show this weekend went all right. I've signed up for a larger show in November which should see a lot more activity." The National Office has supplied A.R. with a professional National Alliance banner (pictured) to display at his table.

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Airing "Dirty Laundry"—and Remembering the National Alliance in Our Wills

Short on space and late with mailing this BULLETIN, I'll feature an instructive exchange I had this month with long time supporter Wade H. from South Carolina. Wade had submitted a comment under Martin Kerr's "Hitler Made Us Holy Again" on nationalvanguard.org. The comment was inappropriate for public consumption, so Mr. Strom forwarded it to me to deal with. Wade doesn't care much for Christian patriots who try to steer our readers to worship our enemy's tribal god. He was also rightly offended when my predecessor as Chairman, Erich Gliebe, essentially jettisoned Dr. Pierce's non-Christian, Cosmotheist world view to offer a "bigger tent" that would appeal to Christians. This was a terrible blunder and many Alliance members abandoned the Alliance at that time for good reason. Wade submitted this comment, not actually addressing Mr. Kerr's fine article, but more in the vein of venting his spleen. He wrote:

...[A]nd as long as there are Christians around, they will never be content with this natural order! Such were the motivations of the traitor Gliebe and there are likely more of his stripe within the gates waiting to take his place. I have made the National Alliance a significant beneficiary in my will. Let us hope that it will be used in the manner for which I desire, and not spent on strippers, Land-Rovers, and the likes of pomp'n fluff which so characterized the last chairman and those close to him. By welcoming Christians into the Alliance, even as "spokespersons," Gliebe did incalculable damage. I sincerely hope that our current leadership has installed the proper stopgaps and safeguards in order to insure that such a disaster will never happen again. — Wade H., South Carolina

I responded: Wade, Kevin forwarded your comment to me out of concern for your blurting that out for public consumption, available to our enemies. You should be able to tell from the last few BULLETINS that uncompromising Bible-thumpers need not apply for NA membership, though they are not ineligible. Nominal Christians who have joined learn, after reading and grasping our material, to keep their spooky Semitic beliefs to themselves, and usually either end up ditching their "spiritual baggage," as Dr. Pierce called it, or joining a Christian organization. Note that we are now selling Ben Klassen's Nature's Eternal Religion, which even Dr. Pierce wouldn't carry because he considered it too harsh. You can count on anyone who gets in any Alliance leadership position while I have anything to do with it will be "pure in spirit."

Most of our readers have never heard of Erich Gliebe. He's been out of the Alliance for more than five years now. National Vanguard is not the place to air or stir up any "dirty laundry" about him, his wife, or "enemies inside the gate." Your comment is not suitable for our White Biocentrism forum, either, not only because it is also watched closely by our enemies, but because all such drama causes us to waste time and energy far better spent on our mission.

I may put this in our October BULLETIN for our members and supporters, to encourage others to follow your example and think of the Alliance in their wills, and to assure them that your and their bequests will be used properly. Mr. Gliebe did do incalculable damage to the Alliance, but we have overcome most of it in the more than five years since Kevin and I reconstituted the organization and got things back on track to follow Dr. Pierce's vision. Our lack of sufficient funding is the main thing holding the Alliance back, so your selfless gesture sets the example we can only hope others will follow — either in their wills or while they are still among the living so they can see results of their philanthropy.

Wade H. responded to me, saying, "That is exactly what I needed to hear! Thanks!" W. W. W.
